

Future Imperfect
Dorian Sari
27.06 – 28.09.2025

For his solo exhibition at the Centre d'art contemporain Yverdon-les-Bains – the first at an institution in French-speaking Switzerland – Dorian Sari has conceived a fragmented and symbolic visual perambulation in which paintings rub shoulders with sculptures, including conceptual pieces. Entitled Future Imperfect, the exhibition is a poetic reflection on a future reimagined not as a potential ideal but as a space in which imperfection is taken for granted.

Born in Izmir, Turkey, in 1989, Dorian Sari obtained a Bachelor's in Visual Arts from HEAD in Geneva in 2016 and a Master's in Visual Arts from the Institute Art Gender Nature (IAGN) Basel in 2018. Before that, in 2011, he also graduated with a BA in Political Science and Languages and a BA in Greek Literature from Paris-Sorbonne University.

Dorian Sari has received a number of accolades, including the Manor Art Prize in 2021, a Swiss Art Award in 2019 and the Kiefer Hablitzel Prize in 2018. His work is regularly exhibited in cultural institutions and art galleries in Switzerland and abroad.

For the vernissage, Dorian Sari and CACY are inviting Julie Monot (1978, Lausanne) to stage a performance entitled Wandering. In this short-lived intervention, the artist will occupy Dorian Sari's exhibition to investigate for herself the fragilities, uncertainties and imperfect dreams he explores in his work. She will also be extending the presentation beyond the confines of CACY and out into the public spaces in the surrounding area.

Future Imperfect is accompanied by a cultural mediation programme designed to spark curiosity and which all audiences are invited to access via encounters and explorations.
